“ CAROL

I talked to you the day before you passed away. I know at the end of each conversation I told you I love you. If I had known it would be our last conversation I would have said much, much more. I know we haven't always seen eye to eye but I think you realized just how much you meant to me when I flew home from Germany to take care of you when your foot was so bad. Even Terry couldn't stomach what needed to be done to tend to the wound on your foot. I wanted to be there should anything happened to you, because you meant THAT much to me. I would have done anything in my power to help you Sis. I think your husband and children both knew that every time you got sick...I needed to know. I remember when we were younger and Terry used to go hunting, I would come over and you, me and our kids would go visit Grandma Garcia. Those were special times we spent together. You are my "special" sister even though it meant the many disagreements along life's way. I remember when I sent you a birthday card that said, "I hardly ever hate you any more." When I sent that card, I knew you would understand and love it... and you did. You remembered all the times when we were younger that we used to say to each other "I hate you, I hate you!" I also know that now you are making conversations with all that you meet...as that is your way. I even believe you are exchanging recipes with anyone that has an interest. Our times talking together on the phone were special to me. I hope now that you are happier, healthier and that you can cook and eat whatever you want without repercussion. I will miss you Sis...much, much more than most will know. Love you Sis! Gloria

“ Carol, we were best friends in high school for a couple of years until I moved away. We sure had a lot of fun. Your special laugh is what I will always remember about you. You could make me laugh at anything. We had a lot of fun but got in minor trouble now and then but the friendship was worth it. Those stories will remain in my heart because we promised not 2 tell anyone and a promise is a promise. Carol also had the biggest heart full of love of anybody I've ever know. I will miss you my friend, you will always be in my heart. Love you Pat Smith Ebmeyer
