“ I met Connie and Rich while attending Madison High almost 50 years ago. It was a strange time then, sweating the Viet Nam draft, Hippies, school riots, those wonderful new Muscle Cars, and men sailing off to the moon. I eventually ended up working at the same place as Rich and the friendship continued way past High School. Connie was always a wonderful hostess and was in her element throwing parties. The Halloween parties were amazing. Losing the old farmhouse on Dauderman to fire was a terrible tragedy but they rebuilt and the fun continued. Eventually, as the years passed, her family and especially her grandkids became her focus. I have many wonderful memories of Connie and Rich, visiting them in the trailer they lived in on Bend Road, going to the zoo and Six Flags with them, having coffee with Connie and her parents in Madison, and being there when Eric was born on New Year's Eve. In recent years the needs of my elderly family members has made it hard to maintain a friendship like we had when we were younger. I miss those fun filled days and good memories of our youth, and I will miss Connie.

“ Connie and I became friends in elementary school and grew to become sisters. I have so many wonderful memories with her from our early school days, to us being teenagers listening to music on transistor radios under the covers in her bunk beds when we were supposed to be sleeping, to road trips to Eldon, MO with her mom and waved at every car on the road, to shopping trips to the Northwest Mall where we went crazy at the perfume counters, to introducing Connie and Rich and going on their first date on prom night, to being maid of honor at her wedding. She always told me that she loved me like a sister (lylas) and I always replied that I loved her like a sister, even more (lylasem). Rest In Peace, my beautiful sister ❤️
