“ I am so shocked go just receive news of Debbie’s passing. She and I met at Troy Methodist Church not long after she started attending there. We talked at length many Sundays before and after church, and felt like we had know each other for a long time.

She spoke of how she missed her husband and that there could never be anyone to measure up to him and take his place. I rejoice in the fact that she is back with him and is also free from anymore health issues. She was a beautiful person and I am grateful to God for getting to know her if but for a brief moment. My condolences to her family that she loved so dearly.
