

James A. Mize

January 19, 1954 - August 11, 2024

James Alvin Mize, age 70 of Alhambra, IL, died Sunday August 11, 2024 at his residence in Alhambra, IL after a battle with cancer.

He was born on January 19, 1954 in Litchfield, IL, the son of Alan and Wynema (nee Hartley) Mize Sr. Jim grew up in Bunker Hill, IL and graduated from Bunker Hill High School, class of 1972. He was previously married twice before marrying Dawna Rose Otto on September 14, 1979 at Salem UCC in Alhambra, IL. They had two children together, Andrew and Amanda, and three grandchildren, Edward, Vincent, and Danica. Jim and Dawna also had many “adopted stray” children over the years.

Jim had a lifelong love of old tractors, restoring many for himself and others, and brought many old steel wheels back to life, welding new rims on them. He also had a love for motorcycles, especially old Hodakas. Jim spent his career driving semi-trucks and trailers, hauling grain, steel, and for much of his career, chemicals for Air Products. He even got to deliver fuel for the space shuttle. After retiring from Air Products, Jim also worked for the Alhambra Township for several years.

Jim enjoyed driving the “band van” for his son’s band, Exit 30, in the late 90’s/early 2000’s and the music they played. He also loved the band, Yes, taking Dawna to a Yes concert for their first date. It was a quick romance.

They met in June of 1979 and were married in September of that year. No, she wasn't pregnant; however, their son Andy was born exactly nine months and one day after their wedding. Jim had a quick wit and a mischievous personality like his father. First, and third rule of the Mize Family Handbook is don't trust anything Jim says. No one remembers what rule number 2 is. But at the core of him was a big heart and a great man, husband, father, and grandfather. He will be greatly missed.

Jim was preceded in death by his parents, Alan D. Mize Sr. (04/27/03) and Wynema H. Mize (11/29/05), his in-laws Vernon F. Otto (11/17/19) and Barbara J. Otto (12/05/94), and his sister JoAnn Shipton (10/19/10). He is survived by his wife Dawna R. Mize; children Andrew J. Mize (Jennifer) and Amanda H. Mize; his grandchildren Edward J. Mize, Vincent J. Mize, and Danica E. W. Mize; his siblings Alan D. Mize Jr. (Vickie), Kathy L. Jones (Jack), Jeri A. Dauksch (Wade), John A. Mize Sr., and brother in law Joe Shipton (Dena); and many nieces and nephews and great nieces and nephews.

Arrangements are being handled by Dauderman Mortuary in Alhambra, IL.

“ As young girls JoAnn and I hatched a plan that would make us sisters. I was going to marry Jim and she was going to marry my brother. Dawna was a better match for Jim! I will miss Jim as I miss JoAnn. Nancy Carpenter Jackson

“ My deepest condolences to Jim's family. Remembering Jim brings a smile to my face when we had Alhambra Floral & Gifts back in early 2000. He was a regular customer on Valentine's Day and honestly I don't remember if Dawna received flowers...sorry!! But numerous widows in Alhambra received a rose every year and we were sworn to secrecy as to who sent them. He would say that they deserve a rose on Valentine's Day. What a big heart he had to be so kind & considerate of those women who were alone on such a special day. God bless Jim and all the lives he touched.

“ Jim and Dawna were terrific neighbors. He had a big heart and never turned away a stray animal. One such stray came to live with them and then proceeded to deliver a litter of pups that went on and on. I don't remember how many pups she had, but it was a huge amount. The Mize family took it in stride until they eventually found someone to take all the puppies. Jim will be missed.
