“ So sorry for the loss Michael was always very friendly and apologetic if he called for assistance. Hope he knows he was never a problem and we were there for him. His love for hunting was very special and sadly it became limited. There was a time we went out that I remember so well, assistance was needed and he had a fish tank holding mice in the living room. I joked about mice can't swim and he said "oh that's for my snake in the bedroom"! I never knew that two of my firemen could run so fast out the door. Michael and the rest of us laughed. Bless him and may he Rest In Peace, no more suffering. Condolence to the family. Michele and Bill Logue
