“ When I first came to Highland to interview for the job of Supt. of the Highland District, Bob was on the Board. There was something special about him from day one. He looked you in the eye and you could tell that this was a man to respect. And, indeed, he was. His thoughtful input, his valued opinion, and his friendly attitude were gifts he gave freely. He was a true public servant, but also a kind and genuine man. I valued his guidance greatly. He made an immense impact on the school district and on me. He also left the world with a wonderful family. He was one of the best.
