Bob lived a life deeply rooted in faith, family, farming and community. A lifelong farmer, he took great pride in working the land and sharing his love of agriculture with his children and grandchildren. His farm was not just a place of work but a gathering spot for family, filled with laughter, stories, and his ever present sense of humor. Known for his quick wit and playful spirit, Bob was a jokester who never missed an opportunity to bring a smile to someone's face.

A natural problem-solver, Bob was the first to lend a helping hand to anyone in need. Whether it was fixing equipment, offering advice, or simply sharing his time, he cared deeply for those around him. He knew everyone in town and could strike up a conversation with anyone, often leaving them with a lasting impression and more, often than not, a story to tell.

Bob loved driving his pickup truck to the farm, playing cards with friends, and watching baseball. He was an avid supporter of his children's sports, rarely missing a game and cheering proudly from the sidelines. His legacy of love, hard work, and humor will live on through the countless lives he touched.

“ *Death is a door opening to a new life.
I am at peace with the grieving process.
I am at peace with my loved one's passing.
I allow myself the time I need to work through my grief.
Our spirit can never be taken from us,
for it is the part of us that is eternal.
Death is a natural part of life.
Everyone dies within the perfect time-space sequence.
I know that no matter where I am, I am safe and loved and totally supported by life.
Our spirit, our soul, is is always safe,
always secure, and always alive.
I let the light of my love shine so that it comforts me and others.
There is no death only a change of form.
