“ I have such wonderful memories of Aunt Jane. She was a very special part of my early life. I remember our family vacations with her along.....happy, easy-going, with that impish smile that always made you wonder if she was up to something!
I can still picture the upstairs apartment, she and Ulila lived in when I was a little kid. Especially the little Chihuahua that lived there too. I will miss her much! I'm very sorry that I can not be there for the final goodbye.....

“ Uncle Bill, Lyle and Lennie, you are in my prayers. No matter whether or not we are expecting the death of a loved one, it still kind of catches us by surprise somehow. It still hurts. I loved my Aunt Jane, even though we seldom got to see each other. I came to know and love her through the long, newsy, funny letters she used to write to me while I was growing up. The few times we were able to be together made me love her more. She was a special lady with a big heart and lots of love. I was so sad when she got Alzheimer's. My Dad also died with Alzheimer's and it was so hard to watch him change and to see the man I loved so much disappear, leaving a stranger in his place. I understand why Nancy Reagan called it "the long goodbye", because that's what it is. I'm sorry you had to go through that as well. I don't know about you, but I am comforted to think that she has been reunited with her sister, Violet, her parents, and brothers. I expect my Dad was there at the gate to welcome her as well. He always thought so much of her and loved her sense of humor. They seemed to like teasing each other the few times we were able to be together. May God bless each of you and give you His comfort and peace.

“ It was a joy to be around you and we had such fun talks. I know you are now in a better place with Jesus and I am happy for you but sad for the ones that are left here with out your wonderful loving kindness. The world was a better place because you were in it. I ask God to cover your family with His waterfall of strength giving Grace and may the Peace of Jesus comfort them all. See you later sweetie on the other side.

“ To my loving Wife, What a wonderful child of God you were and are. God let me borrow you for a while and now you are in his loving arms. You loved and were loved a lot in all the time that I knew you. When we walked together it was me usually walking faster. Now you have passed me up and have received your reward for taking such good care of me. I was one lucky man to have found you.

“ Mom, I really didn't realize how much I've been missing you until now. I miss your handwritten letters that used to show up in the mail unexpectedly, I miss the calls on my birthday every year in which you would tell me, "XX years ago at this time I was holding my new baby boy in my arms.", I miss the hand-crafted birthday cakes that you baked for my birthday every year as a kid, i miss the giant heart-shaped valentines cookies that you made for us, I miss you walking us home from school on the last day of the year, I miss the home made stuffed animals that you gave us to keep our little hands busy at play, I miss how well you took our mischievous pranks like putting "80% fat free" stickers on you from the grocery store meat case while you weren't looking, or or signing you up for free tobacco product samples in the mail, I miss going up town in Greenville as a teenager with newly-earned money & buying Christmas decorations with you. You gave me so many good times throughout my life that there are too many to even think of. The bottom line is that I miss being loved by you(a love so complete) & I can't believe that you're no longer in this world with me. Now it's too late to tell you these things and to thank you for taking care of me so well & for being my mother. I tell you here, hoping that God allows you to peek at the internet in Heaven at least for a few minutes to read this message to you. I love you Mom & want to see you again. Your son,
-"Lennie"
