“ Prayers for everyone Trina loved & had in her life, my heart goes out to her entire family. Please hold her babies extra tight w her love. Trina & I go way back she has always been a friend. We have alot of memories together. We hadn't seen one another for a few yrs. Then 3yrs ago we ran into each other,started as Friends right where we left off. I got to spend sometime with her alot over the last couple yrs. I'm so thankful for the time got with her. Trina has always had a heart of gold she always had a good soul. She loves her family,friends & would do anything she could to help anyone. Even in her tough times this girl would call to check on me & lmk she was there if I needed her we leaned on each other several times for many reasons since the day I met her, but the one thing she always said we gotta keep the faith for our kids for our loved ones she in fact just told me this a couple weeks back both of us worrying about our babies. She helped me so much. I hope she realizes how grateful I really am for her selflessness for her friendship & loyalty. She was happy she told me so, still wrking on things as we all have to do in life but she was happy the loss of her mother really wore on her heart. I'm glad she had Joe her family to help her get through.I'm sorry for her family's loss. I lost a dear sweet friend. Ur with ur momma now beautiful angels. U keep on Nolan's ear & tell him everything we talked about when we would contact each other crying because we didn't have him to talk to,or get advice from & I truly know u will. I know he right by ur side, as well as your mother fly high Trina u will b sadly missed & never forgotten& always loved! She always stood for what she believed no matter what & she had no problem being real & standing up for what she believed thts what I loved most about her
