

Vonda L. Potter

August 9, 1935 - May 7, 2013

Vonda L. Potter, age 77 of Crossville, IL, died Tuesday, May 07, 2013, at Faith Countryside Homes/Faith Care Center in Highland, IL.

She was born on Friday, August 09, 1935, in Crossville, IL, the daughter of Loy Edward and Esther Eileen (nee Maurer) Fobar.

On Thursday, April 14, 1955, she married Edwin Earl Potter who passed away on Friday, September 29, 2006.

She was a member of Modern Woodmen of America, (secretary for 25 years); Crossville United Methodist Church-Crossville, IL.

Mrs. Potter lived her entire life in Crossville, Illinois. She was a 1953 graduate of Crossville High School and attended Lockyear's Business School in Evansville, Indiana. She worked at Carmi Hospital after her son was born and reared her family. She became a real estate broker after her son was grown and later founded Potter Real Estate, where she remained active until 2010. She served as a precinct committee person for a number of terms and was very active in her community. She was an avid photographer; she and her husband Ballroom Danced.

Survivors include:

Son - Edwin L. (Glenna) Potter, Pocahontas, IL
Grandchild - Victoria E. (Rob) Rohe, St. Louis, MO
Grandchild - Katherine A. (Levi) Bushue, Alton, IL
Grandchild - John E. (Significant Other-Mandy Kampwerth) Potter,
Champaign, IL
Grandchild - Samantha J. Potter, Pocahontas, IL
Sister - Betty L. Nelson, Carmi, IL.

She was preceded in death by:

Father - Loy Edward Fobar

Mother - Esther Eileen Fobar, nee Maurer

Husband - Edwin Earl Potter (Died 9/26/2006)

Brother In-law - Eden "Pat" Nelson (Died 1/24/2013).